Education	High School Diploma
Occupation	Student

Bio

Christopher is a college sophomore majoring in Biology. He tries to be a Straight-A student while still maintaining his social life. When he isn't busy doing homework or studying for exams, Christopher spends his free time cleaning the apartment and reminding his roommates to clean up after themselves.

"I stayed up all night to study for that exam, but at least I got an A."

Goals

Chris needs for his roommate's laziness to not interfere with his studies.

Frustration

- Chris fears that he will fail his Calculus class because he does not have enough time to study.
- He is frustrated by the clutter in their apartment.

Values

- Wants to be able to delegate chores to his roommates, without needing to frequently check in with them.

Aspirations

Christopher hopes to maintain his 4.0 GPA and graduate with honors. He plans to land a well-paying job as a biologist.
